

for your dog. There is often more than one treatment option available, so if one doesn't work for you and your pet, your vet may be able to offer another.

Consider insuring your dog as soon as you get them, before any signs of illness start. This will ensure you have all the support you need to care for them.

FAQ's

Will long-term steroid medication give my dog Cushing's?

High doses of steroids over a long period can cause Cushing's. Some dogs with chronic conditions such as allergic skin disease, immune mediated disease and Addison's need long-term steroid medication. Your vet will be aware of the risks of giving long-term steroids and will always try to give the lowest effective dose.
